For the prevention and cure
BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS
is recommended
HAHN's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir,

A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthmas, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions.—To parents who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative,

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of

Nervous Disorders	Violent cramps in the stomach and back
Consumptions	Indigestion
Lowness of spirits	Melancholy
Loss of appetite	Gout in the stomach
Impurity of b'ood	Pains in the limbs
Hysteric'l affection	Relaxations, etc.
Inward weaknesses and debility

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.

A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, rheumatic gout, palsy, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, etc. etc.

Lee's Ointment for the Itch,

Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety by pregnant women, or on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaister.

An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing them root and branch, without giving any pain.

The Genuine Persian Lotion,

So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflamatory redness, scurfs, tetters, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c.

Hahn's genuine Eye Water,

A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of natural weakness or of accident.

Tooth Ache Drops.

The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

Lee's Infallible Ague and Fever Drops

For the cure of agues, remittent and intermittent fevers.

☞ At the place of sale pamphlets may be had gratis, describing cures performed by the above medicines; the number, importance and respectability of which, fully justify every article of this advertisement.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE
AND DAILY ADVERTISER.

PUBLISHED BY
SAMUEL SNOWDEN,
ROYAL-STREET.

Daily Gazette $7....Country Gazette $5.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 17, 1817.

FOR THE ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE.

The want of sufficient energy to improve the advantages with which a beneficent Providence has surrounded us, is a crime which was thought of sufficient magnitude to merit the pointed reprehension of heaven itself; and the due improvement of the talents entrusted to our care, both in our individual and social relations, is a duty not less emphatically enforced by the soundest dictates of reason and common sense. To ameliorate the general condition of his species, is the noble aim of the philanthropist and the philosopher, and to improve and extend the advantages of his local situation, should be the object of every member of an enlightened community; and no station, however humble, can render us unable to contribute in some degree towards its attainment. Wherever a sense of this duty is generally felt, a union of object and energy of action is almost invariably attended with a success correspondent to the degree of activity which it excites. We see, in many places, associations formed for promoting improvements in agriculture and the arts, and in those places where a proper estimate of its importance is made, we see individual and united exertions directed to the improvement & extension of commerce, and these exertions may generally—nay, universally be taken as evidences of the healthful, vigorous and flourishing state of the particular local communities in which they originate. In glancing over the map of our extended country, the eye scarcely rests upon a spot combining more numerous and important advantages of situation for commerce than Alexandria, even taking into the prospect those fertile regions of the south and west, where the restless and unsatisfied adventurer fancies wealth as within his grasp and courting his acceptance; and yet, no where does there exist so confirmed an apathy and indifference to every thing connected with the subject. With a back country to the west, the extent and fertility of which (connected with us as it is by the navigable waters of the Potomac and Shenandoah) would enable us to export more bread stuffs than any other port in the union—with the tobacco and corn trade of the Northern Neck of Virginia, and a great part of Maryland in our offer—with a large share of the internal trade of the Chesapeake and its waters, a safe and easy communication with the ocean, and a salubrious climate, we languish in comparative obscurity and insignificancy, almost unknown and unnumbered amongst the commercial cities of the union; and our progress towards commercial consequence is so slow as to be almost imperceptible to the eye of the most solicitous observer. With a population of upwards of 8,000 inhabitants, a banking capital of more than two millions of dollars, an annual export of more than a million of dollars, and 10,000 tons of shipping, our market scarcely offers to the western merchant, who would be our natural and exclusive customer, a selection of foreign commodities superior to many villages retired in situation, poor in natural means, and supported alone by the union, activity and enterprize of the inhabitants; and by compelling him to pass us by and make his purchases in the north, renders the sale of produce which he makes to us rather a disadvantage to us than a benefit, inasmuch as it becomes the means of draining us of money to encourage the importers of Baltimore, Philadelphia and New-York. Four fifths at least of the produce purchased in and shipped from Alexandria is paid for in money; the greater part of which is transmitted to those places for the purchase of foreign merchandize, by which a balance is created against us, and the fair operation of our banking capital checked and impeded, when the natural and proper course would be, a direct interchange, which would leave within the District the profit now paid to the larger cities, and render us perfectly independent of them; and there is a natural connexion and identity of interest between this District and the country west of us, which will ever render it our own fault if we fail to derive from it the advantages resulting from its exclusive trade—great and valuable exports from the most solid foundation on which an extensive commerce can be raised: all other is unstable, liable to be vitally affected by every political change and untoward extraneous circumstance: but where there is a regular and valuable exportable commodity, particularly if it be bread stuffs, trade will always flourish in a degree proportioned to the demand for the staple, and there will, perhaps, never occur a year of such universal plenty as to make it an object of entire indifference. Notwithstanding we possess this advantage in an eminent degree, yet, situated as we at present are, and using it as we do, it is very problematical whether it is a benefit or an injury: paying for the produce almost exclusively in money to enable the growers to be valuable customers to the neighboring cities, we transfer to them the fruits of our labors as well as our capital, and reserve to ourselves but a pittance for handling the article for them, and even that pittance is not unfrequently, by the folly of some of our dealers, made (to use a vulgarism) over the left shoulder.

What then, it will be asked, is wanted to change this unfortunate state of things and to give new life and vigor to our dormant energies. I answer—a direct, regular, and judiciously extended foreign commerce, the export of a larger proportion of our own productions, the import of such foreign commodities as the growers of these productions require in exchange for them, and the avoiding, entirely, of shipments coastwise, or the purchase of merchandize in other cities—furnishing the eastern capitalists with our produce when and to what extent they may require, & receive in payment their money and nothing else—the encouragement and support of men engaged in, and attracting to the port, foreign trade, encouraging and fostering by every means in our power, honesty, industry and enterprize in merchants and mechanics located among us—& particularly those who have no paramount interest to that of the town in which they live, to subserve; the using of proper vigilance and activity to counteract the efforts made to divert from our market the produce to which we are entitled, by turnpike roads and all other proper means—and above all, a union and concert in every measure proposed for the general welfare.—I shall, I know, be told, that the few transient efforts of enterprize amongst us, have been almost uniformly unsuccessful and in many instances disastrous—It has been because they were irregular, often ill-timed, and always unsupported—and if any branch of trade is found partially successful with an individual, it is soon overdone by the number and bad management of blind and ignorant imitators. I shall be told, that the foreign merchandize, particularly dry goods, which are already imported here, remain on the shelves, for the want of purchasers. It is because the assortment is small and incomplete, and prices generally high, and a few instances of cheap goods at retail cannot be expected to affect the general reputation of the market, or to divert the attention of western purchasers from Baltimore and Philadelphia. And the enormous sacrifices which have contributed so much to draw purchasers to these markets, furnish no general argument against the practicability of a fair competition, nor against the fair chance of profit to the regular and judicious importer: the sudden release from the shackles and restraints of twenty five years of war and restriction, induced the manufacturers and capitalists of Europe to deluge every market with their manufactures. The most ruinous sacrifices were the inevitable, and in the case of England, the foreseen and desired result; and the ill advised eagerness of our own merchants for importations added not a little to produce it. Whenever we again witness the same train and combination of causes, we may expect to see the same effects—and I think I may venture to say, not until then in the same degree.—

I have never, during a residence of many years here, seen the time when any thing like a tolerable assortment of European and India goods, by the package, could be found here; and although a few individuals may determine to dispose of their importations on moderate terms, yet any thing short of a general and united effort of the whole mercantile community to stock the market, and for one or two seasons at least, equal in cheapness if not undersell Baltimore and Philadelphia, will be ineffectual.

If this sacrifice is deemed too great to be sustained by individual capital, let the whole community, joined with the capital and enterprise of the adjacent counties whose interest is closely connected with ours, contribute towards the establishment of a company, for the purpose of exporting the productions of the country and of importing such articles as our market is worst supplied with, say European and India goods—for of hardware and china we have never been deficient, and of West India produce we should have abundance, without risk of loss to ourselves, if we duly encourage the exertions of those who endeavor to attract that trade to our port. Where is the grocer, the mechanic, the inn-keeper, the property holder, who would not find, in the influx of western customers, ample repayment for the sum he might invest, even if the entire amount were absorbed in the effort; and even the dry good merchant, whose business might be partially and temporarily arrested, would ultimately find it redoubled. The ships belonging to our own port, would find constant and regular employment, and all the money which we, by our purchases, contribute towards the support of the shipping interests of other places, would be spent in our own. Any argument against this extension of importation, will hold equally good against any at all; and the person who would urge it, must be prepared to advocate an entire dependance on the east for every thing—and the person who is fearful of frightening away customers, by an over quantity of goods, is fit only to follow the retrograde fortunes of Colchester or Bladensburg.

The argument used against companies in general, that they are often badly and negligently managed, and always unprofitable, would have no weight with me, for we have men of weight of character and talents amongst us to direct one; and as to profit, I should be content to contribute gratuitously my mite, to be even sacrificed for the attainment of the important object of establishing the character of our market....as well as of enabling us to become something like respectable competitors with Baltimore for that which is our natural right, viz. the exclusive trade of the rich and important section of country south and west of us, and our fair proportion of that adjacent to us on the north and east.

I have thrown together hastily these remarks, not so much with the hope of arousing the attention of my fellow-citizens to this important subject, as of eliciting the opinions and enlisting the talents of some one capable of doing it justice. If I fail, the consciousness of good intentions will make me feel more of regret than mortification.

A BOLD DASH AT AUCTION SALES!!

A memorial was yesterday presented to the House of Representatives, from certain persons in New-York, praying Congress to lay a duty of 10 per cent. on all goods sold by auction, which memorial was referred to the Committee of Commerce and Manufactures.

The committee to which was referred that part of the President's Message that relates to the constitutional right of making roads, made a long and argumentative report to Congress, declaring its opinion to be, that Congress has a constitutional right to authorise the making of roads and canals in any part of the union, with the consent of the states.—The report was read and concluded with the following resolutions, and both were referred to a Committee of the whole for Friday next, and ordered to be printed to the amount of 500 copies:

"Resolved, That in order to promote and give security to internal commerce, to facilitate the transportation of the mails by the improvement of the post-roads, to render more easy the means of common defence by the construction of military roads, and for such other internal improvement as may be within the constitutional powers of the executive, it is expedient that the sum to be paid by the United States by the 20th section of the act to incorporate the United States' Bank, and the dividend from them shall be constituted a fund for internal improvement."

A resolution was offered by Mr. Robertson, and adopted by the House, that a select committee should be appointed to enquire into the expediency of providing by law for the exercise of the right of EXPATRIATION. Mr. Robertson stated, that some years ago he offered a similar resolution to that for which he now desired the concurrence of the House; but for some cause or other, which it was out of his power to account for, it was not agreed to. The principle, for which he wished to obtain by this motion the express acquiescence of Congress, ought not to have been suffered to remain so long unsettled. During the war, several events occurred which demanded a decision on the question. British subjects, who had become citizens of the United States, and entered into their military service, were taken prisoners by the enemy's troops....whose government, setting up a claim to them on the grounds of a principle disallowed by other nations, and that ought never to be recognized by any—that of perpetual allegiance—threatened to punish them as deserters and traitors, and held them in prison for that purpose; on which occasion, the American government thought themselves bound to threaten the enemy with retaliation. But how, he asked, could we reasonably adopt that ground, while not only we had ourselves no law to authorise the expatriation of Americans, but when we had the decision of a high court of judicature of our own against it?—chief justice Elsworth, of Connecticut, having decided that Isaac Williams, an American, who had entered the French service, could not throw off his allegiance. It was time, Mr. Robertson said, that some decision should be had upon the point, when citizens going into the service of the S. American Patriots were regarded, for doing so, as pirates—though, entering into the Spanish service, they were held to be none. A declaration of the true abstract principle was now become necessary.

A committee was accordingly appointed, consisting of five members.

On motion of Mr. Pindall, a committee was appointed to enquire into the expediency of providing laws for the discovery of slaves escaping from one state into another.

A resolution passed the House directing the committee on military affairs to enquire into the expediency of continuing for five years further, the pensions which had been granted by Congress for a limited period, to the widows and orphans of officers and soldiers who had been killed or wounded in the defence of the country. Gen. Harrison, who moved the resolution, stated that some of those pensions had already expired and that several others would also expire in a short time, leaving those helpless objects of the country bounty, or rather justice, exposed to every privation. The general then undertook to exemplify the hardships against which he wished the House to provide, by particular instances of ladies, (the widows of general officers fallen with glory in the country's defence) who, by the expiration of their pensions, would be left without support. To the widows of general Pike, general Allen and general Hart, he particularly alluded by name, and gave an affecting picture of the situation of the first of those ladies, whom he visited at her residence on the banks of the Ohio, where all was neatness, comfort and hospitality, but all of which would be lost to her if the application then before the House should fail, which, however, he thought impossible. The resolution passed.

The house then resolved itself, on motion of Colonel Johnson, into a committee of the whole, on the bill authorising the commutation of the bounty lands of soldiers for money—when the honorable mover stated that from the documents laid before them by the Secretary of war, it appeared that the whole number of soldiers who had not yet received their patents were about 50,000—of which he calculated that about 25,000 would take the benefit of this bill. Mr. Holmes proposed an amendment to prevent speculators from deriving any benefit from the bill—and Mr. Clay moved to strike out the words "claiming under them," so as to extend the benefit of the commutation only to soldiers or their representation, to the entire exclusion of purchasers. It now began to appear that the measure had by no means that general approbation of the house that was imagined out of doors. The expediency of legislating with caution was urged by Mr. Storrs, to whom it appeared certain that difficulties would arise about the transfers already made—that some would in consequence of those transfers be paid both in land and money, and that suits innumerable would follow, while the house would be filled with petitions. Mr. Smith and Mr. Holmes seemed to more than doubt the expediency of legislating at all.—Mr. Clay alone firmly maintained his opinion of the value of the measure; but offered, in order to try the principle of the bill, to withdraw his amendment, in order that, for that purpose, a motion might be made to strike out the first section. In this state of indecision, the hour being half after three, a motion was made for the committee to rise and report progress, which was carried, and the committee having obtained leave to sit again, the House adjourned.

We invite the attention of our commercial readers to the excellent essay of MERCATOR, in the preceding columns. The importance of the subject should merit their notice, and the masterly manner in which it is handled, will well repay a perusal.

ORDINATION.

The Reverend the Presbytery of Baltimore having had Mr. Elias Harrison for some time under their care, and being persuaded that his ordination to the Ministry would increase his sphere of usefulness, after sustaining the usual trials prescribed to young men intended for the Ministry, appointed to meet at Alexandria on the 14th of December, to perform that solemn service. The congregation were assembled by candle-light, an overflowing multitude. The Rev. Stephen Bloomer Balch presided; Dr. Inglis preached from Matthew i. 21, and Mr. Searle gave the charge. The whole service was uncommonly impressive: the youth of the candidate, the solemnity of the consecration prayer, the imposition of hands—commanded the most profound attention; and we have reason to believe that the effect on the minds of many must be deep and lasting.

We expect to have the pleasure of seeing the sermon, as it has been requested by Presbytery for publication; the proceeds of the sale to be appropriated to the theological seminary at Princeton, now in successful operation.

ORDINATION.

On Thursday last, December 11th, in presence of a very large congregation, assembled in Bridge-street Church, in Georgetown, Mr. Thomas B. Balch was solemnly ordained to the holy office of the ministry by the Reverend Presbytery of Baltimore. The Reverend Andrew Hunter presided on the occasion, Dr. Muir, of Alexandria, preached from Ephesians iii. 8. and Dr. Inglis, of Baltimore, delivered the customary charge.—The sermon, which was peculiarly suitable and excellent, we are happy to learn is to be published, and the proceeds of the sale to be appropriated to the Theological Seminary of the Presbyterian Church now in successful operation at Princeton, New-Jersey.

Philadelphia, Dec. 17.

We are informed by good authority, that the Venezuelian minister, after perusing the President's Message, immediately dispatched an Express to his colleague Don Pedro Gual, the Deputy from New-Granada and Mexico, and to Gen. Aury, at Amelia Island, advising them of the contemplated hostilities against that place. It is added that he has directed Aury to defend the place to the last, unless attacked by a very superior force; in which case to enter a solemn protest, in the name of the South American governments, capitulate, and surrender themselves prisoners of war.

We submit the facts, interesting as they are, without comment.

FROM SOUTH AMERICA.

Extract of a letter from Margarita, dated the 18th of October.

With respect to the late political occurrences in this island, I will only say, that it is scarcely possible to conceive the bravery which was, for the second time, displayed in repelling the furious invasion of general Morillo. Our situation was really very desperate, as we could not look for any assistance from our brethren on the Maine, who were themselves surrounded by dangers of every description.

Under such circumstances, only the immitable heroism of this people could have undertaken to withstand the colossal forces of the enemy—only a people of heroes could have beheld with disdain an infinite number of barriers opposing their design of a brave resistance.

By one of the many contingencies which frequently occur in war, the commander of St. Juan Bautista was unable to prevent Morillo from landing on the shores of the Berales with 3,500 men, of the choicest troops of the line. Notwithstanding some advantages obtained by him, we were forced to come to an engagement, which was bold and bloody, and, after four hours of a well directed and uninterrupted fire, we had the inexpressible pleasure of seeing the enemy give way in all directions with the loss of 400 men: our loss did not exceed 7 killed and 27 wounded.

General Morillo having collected fresh forces, advanced now to Pampatar, and though this fort could not check his audaucity, for want of military trains, he received considerable damage from different corps of infantry and cavalry, which had gone out to meet him, and made a terrible havoc among his troops.

On the 31st July Morillo attacked, with his whole forces, the environs of the capital: the superiority of his troops flattered him with the hope of an easy conquest, but here his disappointment was equal to his disgrace, for the valor and intrepidity of 280 infantry and 200 horses, with a piece of artillery situated on a height, compelled him in nine hours to fly disgracefully and precipitately, with the loss of 600 men killed and wounded, when ours amounted to only 26 of the former and 70 of the latter.

On the 8th of August the whole of the Spanish army invaded the port of Juan de Oriego, whose little fort was defended only by a gun and 150 troops; the half of which were unfit for service. A navy of 23 vessels protected the attack and facilitated its operations; but here they were met by our modern Spartans with so much enthusiasm, that they were thrice beaten off with great slaughter.—However, their fort taking fire, and being already enveloped in flames, our people saw themselves under the necessity of breaking through the enemy's line with stones, and in the best manner they could, in which hardy attempt but 60 escaped, some wounded, others half consumed, And a few unhurt, the rest having remained on the field.

In the late contest this has been the only misfortune which it fell to our lot to endure; but this very misfortune has shed new lustre on the glory already acquired by the people of Margarita, at the same time that it has covered their oppressors with ignominy. The enemy have lost no less than 600 men; and their leader, undeceived in his plan of destroying what the Master of the universe has created, embarked precipitately, thereby preventing the poor remnant of his powerful army from finding a grave in the illustrious island of Margarita, which he has so often intended to raze, and which posterity will hail with the appellation of modern Sparta.

It is not improper to add, that the Spaniards have destroyed every thing within their reach—houses, plantations, trees—all were converted to ashes; and even those unfortunate inhabitants who constantly followed their banners, and those who went over to them during the invasion, have been victims of their ferocity.

New-Orleans, Nov. 8.

A gentleman who left Vera Cruz about the middle of October, and whose opportunities of procuring authentic intelligence relative to the state of the country, were peculiarly favorable, informs us that the news lately published by the Spanish authorities respecting the internal concerns of Mexico, is greatly exaggerated, if not utterly unfounded. It was believed in the best informed circles at Vera Cruz, that Mina, so far from having been destroyed, was making a rapid and irresistible progress, into the most wealthy and populous part of the vice royalty. He had defeated and cut to pieces in three separate affairs, three different regiments of the royal army who had attacked him. Persons at Vera Cruz who dared to converse on the subject, and whose information was derived from authentic sources, declared that his motions and dispositions were admirably judicious, and that his troops evinced an invincible courage as well as the exactest discipline.

The valor of his French officers, particularly, was spoken of in the highest praise. He had passed thro' the cities of Leon and San Luis de Potosi, and was within an hundred miles of the capital. From the rapidity of his progress, and his taking uninterrupted possession of two such important posts as Leon and San Luis de Potosi, one of two inferences is inevitable: either his army is so formidable as to look down all opposition, or the people of the country are extremely well disposed to favor his views.

A convoy of 850,000 dollars from Mexico, had been due at Vera Cruz, when our informant sailed from the latter place; apprehensions were entertained that it had fallen into the hands of the insurgents. Part of the route between the two cities was certainly in their possession, and bands of them frequently appeared within view of the walls of Vera Cruz.

LOSS OF THE BOXER.

We have already published two accounts of the loss of this vessel.—The Boxer being a national vessel, it is proper that the public should be furnished with all the circumstances attending the case.—We therefore add to the statements already published, the following, which was communicated for publication in the New-Orleans Gazette, of the 8th ult. by Major Kirby, of the army, who was a passenger on board when the accident occurred:

"The Boxer came too in six fathom water off the South pass of the Mississippi on the 24th of October, not being able to reach the bar from a strong opposing current and want of wind. On the 25th, the weather was clear and pleasant, and a pilot came on board—about ten in the evening a breeze springing up from the S. East, Captain Porter got under weigh,—The boats of the brig were out to bring her head off shore, and sail was made with every appearance of effecting the object with ease and safety: notwithstanding these precautions she grounded in a few minutes in 14 feet, soft muddy bottom, and soon drifted into 12 feet. Every exertion was made to get her afloat, but without success: from her decayed and rotten state, she bilged at one, and filled in less than two hours.

"At day light, signals of distress were made, and all hands employed in getting on shore the sails, arms and provisions. In the course of the day, most of the public property was landed near the mouth of the South Pass, and in the evening the brig Lucadia came to the relief of the wreck. On the 27th, every thing which had been saved was got on board of her.

"In twenty four hours, the Boxer went to pieces, although there was little wind and no sea; many of her timbers were up, and found to be entirely decayed. From the state she was in, had the weather been tempestuous at the time she struck, it is highly probable that all on board would have been lost. From the moment this misfortune occurred, the crew were remarkably active and zealous in the performance of their duty—and gave evidence of the discipline and subordination to which they had been accustomed. A violent gale of wind commenced blowing after the Boxer's people effected their escape from the wreck. The Launch, with the surgeon, purser, Midshipman McLean and twenty-five men, who had left the shore for the brig, was driven out to sea by this gale, as were Midshipman Beatty and five men, who departed from the Lucadia in the Gig on the night of the 29th—Great anxiety was felt for the fate of these people; little doubt, indeed, was entertained that they had perished.

"Fortunately, however, both the launch and the gig made a mud bank at the mouth of the S. W. Pass, where in a state of starvation, they were picked up by the sloop Amelia, Capt. Whittlesey, from New-York, and were landed at Plaquemaine.

"The officers speak in the highest terms of the humanity, kindness & attention with which they were treated by Captain Whittlesey."

Land for Sale.

BY virtue of an order from Charles County Court, will be sold to the highest bidder, on the premises, on the 24th day of December next, if fair, otherwise the first fair day thereafter: the whole of the REAL ESTATE of Walter Brook, sen. deceased, situate in Charles County, Durham Parish, and binding on the Potomac river at that well known place Brook's ferry, opposite the mouth of Quantico Creek. This farm contains about 330 acres, and is well adapted to the culture of indian corn, rye, oats, cotton and tobacco, and a part of it very good for wheat. The advantages from the water are also very great, there being a very good herring and shad fishery, and in their season fish and fowl of almost every kind. The improvements are a good dwelling house with three rooms on a floor, and several other necessary outhouses. The terms are, three equal payments at six, twelve & eighteen months, the purchasers giving bond with approved security on interest from the day of sale. The sale to commence at 12 o'clock.

Public Sale.

IN pursuance of the authority vested in us by a deed of trust, bearing date 3d day of Aug. 1814, from James Deneale, of Prince William county, for the benefit of the Mechanics' Bank of Alexandria, and at the request of the president and directors of the said bank, we shall, for the purpose of raising the sum of eight thousand seven hundred dollars, with interest thereon from the 20th day of Dec. in the year 1816, and the expences of the sale, sell at public sale, for ready money to the highest bidder, at the court house in Dumfries, on the first Monday in Jan. next, the following property in the county of Prince William: a water Grist Mill, on Quantico creek, and ten acres of land adjoining thereto, near the town of Dumfries, known by the name of Deneale's Mill, and all implements and appurtenances thereto belonging. Also, one other piece of land and water grist mill adjoining the above on Quantico creek—Also, one and one half acre of land formerly known by the name of the Saw Mill Tract and to include the Saw Mill and improvements.

Those who are disposed to purchase may view the property before the day of sale.

The subscribers selling as trustees will convey no other right than that which they hold as trustees, not meaning to make themselves personally responsible for the title.

ROBT. YOUNG,
P. TRIPLETT.

November 19 ts

Trustee's Sale.

UNDER the authority, and by virtue of a decree of the honorable the High Court of Chancery of the State of Maryland, the subscriber will offer at public sale, on the premises, on Saturday the 20th day of December, inst. at 12 M. if fair, if not, the next fair lawful day, at the same hour, all the Land of the late Richard Henderson, deceased, situate in Prince George's County, Md. and adjoining or near the town of Bladensburg, containing between 6 and 700 acres, of which a survey and plat will be made previous to the sale, and then exhibited.

These lands are beautifully situated, and in an excellent neighborhood; one third part, or nearly so, is in wood, and about 50 acres of bottom or meadow, which, with some improvement, is capable of producing large crops of timothy, a certain and never failing market for which is found in the City of Washington, about 4 miles distant. This property, lying below Bladensburg, on the Eastern Branch, has the advantage of water conveyance for its produce to the City, Georgetown or Alexandria at a small expence.

Intending purchasers it is supposed, will, by themselves or agents, examine the Lands and determine for themselves as to the quality and local advantages thereof, and therefore a more particular description is deemed unnecessary. Mr. Wilson, residing on the premises, will shew them.

The conditions of sale are, that the purchaser shall give bond with security to the Trustee, to be approved by him, for paying one 3d of the purchase money with interest within 12 months, one other 3d with interest within 18 months, and the residue with interest within 2 years from the day of sale—and upon the sale being ratified by the Chancellor, and on receipt of the purchase money, a conveyance shall be made in terms of the said decree. COLIN AULD, Trustee.

Public Sale.

UNDER the authority of a deed of trust from John Throop, and Rebecca his wife, in order to secure Hugh Carolin against the effect of his endorsements for the said John Throop, the subscriber will offer at public sale, for cash, on Friday the 2d day of January next, at 12 o'clock, upon the premises, all the right, title and interest of the said John Throop in the undermentioned property, or so much thereof as may be necessary to save harmless the said H. Carolin, viz:

A Lot of Ground, on the south side of King-street, beginning 54 feet eastward of Payne-street, and fronting on King-street 27 feet.

Also, one other Piece of Ground, beginning 176 feet 7 inches from the intersection of Prince and Payne streets, and running southwardly with Payne-street 60 feet.

And another Piece of Ground, beginning at an alley laid off by I. V. Thomas, at its intersection with Alfred-street, and binding north on said street 37 feet 6 inches.

The evidences of title and a more minute description may be seen upon application to the subscriber.

COLIN AULD, Trustee.

December 13 ts

Public Sale.

ON the 10th January next, if fair, if not, the next fair day, will be offered at public auction, on the premises, a certain tract or parcel of LAND, situate in the county of Loudoun, near the Gum Spring, and at the intersection of the Little River Turnpike and Centreville Road, near the 26 mile stone, containing 752 acres. And, on the 5th January next, at Mr. Kankey's tavern, in the town of Dumfries, a parcel of LAND, situate in the county of Stafford, within 8 miles of Dumfries, near Chappawamsic meeting house, and adjoining the lands of Major Tolson and others, containing about 230 acres.

Those lands are two third parts of the lands formerly belonging to Robt. Lyle, sen. deceased, in those counties, and divided by commissioners appointed under the authority of court.

It is presumed and wished that all who are inclined to become purchasers, will examine the lands; and, therefore, it becomes unnecessary to be more particular. They will be divided into such portions as may be desired; and the terms of payment will be one third part in hand, and the remainder by equal instalments in one and two years, secured by bond, and bearing interest from the day of sale, with approved security.

COLIN AULD.

Land for Sale.

IF early application is made, I will dispose of 400 acres of the CEDAR GROVE tract of land. There is surplus timber and fire wood enough on the part I purpose selling to pay, with judicious management, more than half the purchase money, at the price I ask. The situation is healthy, and the land fertile. Contiguity to market is also among its advantages; it being within less than a mile of Mr. Jonathan Janney's mill, where the Alexandria price may be had for grain. Persons wishing to purchase will apply to the subscriber, residing at Cedar Grove, ten miles below Alexandria, and one below Janney's mill.

RAN AWAY from William Galt, near Fredericktown, on the Lancaster road, in April last, a Negro Woman, named JULIET, about 30 years of age, 5 feet high, has lost several of her upper fore teeth, speaks quick & sharp—says she was sold by a Mr. Darby, of Anne-Arundel county, to some Georgia traders whom she left near Richmond, Va. and was lodged in Fredericktown jail, from whence she was sold for her jail fees, & purchased by John P. Thompson, and by him sold to William Galt.—It is supposed she is now lurking about the district of Columbia or its vicinity.—The above reward will be paid for apprehending and securing her so that I get her. JAMES GALT.

Fifty Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY, on Saturday evening, the 11th inst. my mulatto man, named NED, commonly called Ned M'Rae alias Shrewbo. He is about 23 or 24 years of age, 5 feet 8 or 9 inches high, and was raised in Manchester. Ned is well made, high forehead and large flat nose: had on when he went away a grey coat and pantaloons, but as he was well provided with cloathing of various kinds, it is probable he may have changed his dress. It is believed he went off with his wife, who it appears left Richmond at the same time: she is very black, and, I believe, somewhat pitted with the small pox, talks a great deal, of short stature, and rather thick made. Ned is very artful, and may probably attempt to pass for a free man; he has a down look when spoken to. The above reward will be given if taken out of Richmond or Manchester, and twenty-five dollars if taken in either place, and all reasonable expenses paid for delivering him to the subscriber. DAVID BARCLAY.

N. B. Masters of vessels and others, are cautioned against harboring, employing or carrying off said fellow, under penalty of the law.

James Kennedy & Son,

BOOKSELLERS,

KING-STREET, ALEXANDRIA,

RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from

Lee's Medicine Store,

No. 46, Maiden lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:

Hamilton's Worm-destroying Lozenges,

Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Teres or large round worm; the Ascarides or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitine or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tænia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fœtid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

For the prevention and cure of Bilious and Malignant Fevers is recommended

HAHN'S ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate!

They have been found remarkably efficatious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir,

A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthmas, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions.—To parents who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative,

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of

Nervous Disorders	Violent cramps in
Consumptions	the stomach and
Lowness of spirits	back
Loss of appetite	Indigestion
Impurity of b'ood	Melancholy
Hysteric'l affection	Gout in the stomach
Inward weaknesses	Pains in the limbs
and debility	Relaxations, etc.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.

A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, rheumatic gout, palsy, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, etc. etc.

Lee's Ointment for the Itch.

Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety by pregnant women, or on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaister.

An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing them root and branch, without giving any pain.

The Genuine Persian Lotion,

So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflamatory redness, scurfs, tetters, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c.

Hahn's genuine Eye Water,

A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of natural weakness or of accident.

Tooth Ache Drops.

The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

Lee's Infallible Ague and Fever Drops

For the cure of agues, remittent and intermittent fevers.

☞ At the place of sale pamphlets may be had gratis, describing cures performed by the above medicines; the number, importance and respectability of which, fully justify every article of this advertisement.
